Appendix A

Code of Conduct

The Code of Conduct provides that the Police and Crime Commissioner and his Deputy will abide by the seven principles set out in Standards in Public Life: First Report of the Committee on Standards in Public Life known as — the Nolan Principles.

Selflessness:

We will take decisions solely in terms of the public interest. We will not take decisions in order to gain financial or other material benefits for ourselves, our families, or friends.

Integrity:

We will not place ourselves under any financial or other obligation to outside individuals or organisations that may influence our performance of our official duties.

Objectivity:

In carrying out public business, including making public appointments, awarding contracts, or recommending individuals for rewards and benefits, we will make choices on merit.

Accountability:

We are accountable for our decisions and actions to the public and submit ourselves to whatever scrutiny is appropriate to our office.

Openness:

We will be as open as possible about all decisions and action that we take. We will give reasons for our decisions and restrict information only when the wider public interest clearly demands.

Honesty:

We have a duty to declare any private interests relating to our public duties and to take steps to resolve any conflicts arising in a way that protects the public interest.

Leadership:

We will promote and support these principles through leadership and by our own example.
