Mid-point review: where we are, where we are going

- Reaching the 5-year point of the current 10-year strategy.
- Working on a 'mid-strategy review' to take stock and outline key deliverables for each priority area for the next 5 years.
- Recognising that the national and local landscape has evolved since 2020.
- Opportunity to update on progress.
- To feed into the mid-strategy review:
 - Health and Wellbeing Board member workshop in March 2024.
 - Priority leads' workshop held in June 2024.

Mid-point Review engagement with priority leads

Key themes

Improving links between priority areas and the Board

Strengthen relationships

Foster a collaborative and supportive approach

Develop the role of the sponsor: assurance and connection

Review methods of regular reporting

Development of priority area network

Collaborative approach between priority areas

Share best practice/ways of working

Working together on cross cutting themes e.g. inequalities, inclusion, engagement

Next Steps

- Continued development and drafting of mid-point review document and identification of 5-year priorities with leads
 - Timeline -publication by Spring 2025.
- Agreeing ways of working moving forward – assurance, connection and communication
 - Identification of Board sponsors – prior to November Board.
 - Developing a model for future engagement between the Board and priority leads.
